MOHAMMEDAN INDIFFERENCE TO SUFFER-ING .- I recollected having seen at Nikopolis or Sistova-I forget which-great piles of bones ready for exportation, among which were human skulls. I also r. c lied to mind that two months previously, when I was visiting some chemical manure works in the north of Scalland, the manager showed me his bone stores from the Back Sea, and said that human bones were of ten found in cargoes from that quarter. Again, a few weeks after my visit to the Shipks, I saw a consideratl; number of men's skulls and other bones in shallow open holes in the Aerepolis of Athens, which the local dregoman told me were the remains of Greeks and Turks who had fallen in the wer of indespetce fifty years age. That Mohammedans and other rude races are indifferent about burying the bodies of those io whom they have no special personal interest I can well believe. With them the feeling of sympathy for physical sufficient is almost nonexistent. If so callous about the living, why should they care for the dead? Over and over again in India I have been disgusted by the cauel way they leave a dog, when disabled by a boar, to die a lingering death in the jungle-from starvation, or being eaten while still half alive by beasts of prey—when a prod with a spear would have ended the poor brute's misery. It is the same with baggage and other animals. Of the 70,000 camels which died during the 1878-79 Afguan campaign, I suppose a large majority died on one or the other of the above horrible ways. of those that did not, we may safely conjecture the happy dispatch was either due to the humanity of a british efficer or to the promptings of the Mobammedan stomach -Blackwood's Magazine
